Janis Beal is entering her seventh season as the head coach of the Northwest College women’s basketball team. This past season, for the second time in three years, the Trappers advanced to the semi-finals of the regional tournament. One player was named to the All-Region team and another to the All-Region Defensive team. The tournament success was proven by two players being placed on the All-Tournament Team. The success also carries over into the classroom with each of Beal’s teams placing in the WBCA top 10 in the nation for team GPA. Prior to her position with Northwest College, Beal served as an assistant coach for Snow College (NJCAA). From 2005-2007, Beal served as an assistant coach for Eastern Washington University (NCAA Division I).

Beal is a former collegiate player, spending two seasons at Southern Utah University. She was named to the Second Team All-Mid Continent Conference Team, College Sports Information Directors of America Academic All-District First Team and Mid-Continent Conference All Newcomer Team. Prior to attending Southern Utah University, Beal played two seasons at Northwest College. In both of her Trapper seasons, she earned a spot on the Region IX All-Region Team, All-Tournament Team and Academic All-Conference Team. She set the bar during her tenure as a Trapper, posting her name in the NWC basketball record book as the college’s all-time leading scorer after sinking 1,382 points during her career at Northwest. That same year, she received honorable mention All-American status from both Kodak and the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA), and was named the Wyoming Community College Athletic Conference Player of the Year.

Janis Beal is entering her fifth season as the head coach of the Northwest College women’s basketball team. This past season the Trappers advanced to the final four of the Region IX Tournament, posting a record of 17-16. One player received All-Region honors and two were named to the All-Tournament team. The success also carries over into the classroom with each of Beal’s teams placing in the WBCA top 10 in the nation for team GPA. Prior to her position with Northwest College, Beal served as an assistant coach for Snow College (NJCAA).
